First Meat Market in Charleston, Utah 1890-1910

Charleston, Utah had a small row of businesses and a one-room Post Office near the turn of the century, 1890 to 1910.

Emil Kohler, who was a Swiss butcher, ran the first (?) a meat market. Later, an Englishman, George Smith set up another butcher shop there.

Bishop Nymphus Coridon Murdock had started a cooperative store. George Daybell ran a cooperative creamery in 1894. Phoebe North Daybell had a women's millinery shop. Sarah Ritchie Wrightman ran a women's dressmaking parlor. Ernest Bates had a sweets and ice cream shop.

Refs. 1. HBUM, pp 998-1000
2. Need picture

Daddy, I put the information in different order so the butcher shops would be first. If you want me to change it back, just mark this up. Sondra

19 Jan 1855 The Provo Canyon Road Co. was incorporated by Gov. Young, & _____ Legislative Assembly.
Copy the act (p 6)

Sep 1857 <sup>Col.</sup> Albert Sidney Johnston's US Army troops at Echo Canyon (east inlet).

Utah Militia from SL, Provo, Heber etc had been assembled to meet this US threat.

1857-1858 SL Citizen exodus to Am Fk, Leki, Provo, Springville, Ep Fork, Payson even Nephi

6 June 1858 Reasons for road: at Provo Bowery
① To get at big supply of timber up Provo River.

② Establish alternative route to central Utah into lower California to connect with road to Ft Bridger & beyond.
③ Establish access to Weber Canyon timber

7 June 1858 at Provo Bowery: Provo Utah, Big Young, Heber C Kimball, Daniel H Wells, & several 12 apostles

They organized the Provo Canyon Road Company.

Brigham Young took 200 shares of the stock

Ferromor Little was apptd to superintend the road making

W. G. _____ Mills was named clerk of the Co.

They asked for 500 laborers. These laborers worked the rest of the summer to complete the road. It required a bridge over Provo River, west of present black steel railroad bridge. This was built by Engineer Henry Grow, the same man who <sup>later</sup> built the dome-shaped LDS Tabernacle in SLU.

13 Oct 1858 Desert News carried an article that the bridge had been completed

cost of road $20,000

100 teamsters started N over the new road. It saved 60 mi for camp & food teamsters to the Missouri River.
